

Here is a link to a video of a tutoring session I led with a student. The topic is sequences and series. The aim here is not to show my tutoring of complicated material, since this material is not particularly complicated though some of the series are tricky, but rather to demonstrate my ability to break down the material to the level the student can readily understand.

<https://youtu.be/m7oNZ1-eOhw>